

Americans and Japanese Fire On Chinese Mob

American Bluejackets Forced to Fire—Wounded Three Chinese, One Probably Fatally—Japanese Reported to Have Been Carried Off by Mob.

(By The Associated Press.)

Further disorders and continued spread of the area affected by the nationalist movement marked developments over the week end in China.

American and Japanese bluejackets were involved in fighting with Chinese at two widely separated points.

The Americans, charged with guarding the steamer Chuan near Chungking, in the upper Yangtze valley, shot and wounded four Chinese who attempted to capture the vessel.

The Japanese, faced with a serious situation at Hankow, seat of the Chinese regime, wounded two Chinese when a mob invaded the Japanese concession. Ten Japanese, including the sailors, were reported carried off by the mob.

Raiders Continue.

The Cantonese are pressing their drive northward in the direction of Peking, and the exodus of foreign women and children from the northern capital continues. American and other foreign residents of Kaiguan, on the north coast, have left for Tientsin, near the coast.

Americans are also leaving Canton, in southern China, and a gunboat has arrived there. The port of Amoy has been closed on orders from Peking in consequence of Chinese strikes.

The labor situation in Shanghai remains disturbed. Banners in the northern native section, facing the British lines, say "cruciate British troops and warships or suffer!"

"Not Communist."

Eugene Chen, Cantonese foreign minister, is quoted as declaring that the Nationalist revolution is not communist although Communists are collaborating with the Kuomintang or Republican revolutionary party.

General Chang Kai-Shek, Cantonese generalissimo who has been at the Kuomintang left wing, announces that he will confine himself in the future to pushing the military campaign against the Northerners.

The Cantonese are reported to be springing a coup in Yunnan, one of the most southerly provinces, making one governor a virtual prisoner.

Some French newspapers criticize the Chinese policy declaring that he is counting on a Cantonese victory and is thus "putting all his eggs in one basket."

Forced to Fire.

Washington, April 4 (AP).—An armed guard from the American post at Monocacy turned riot guns on Chinese sampans on the Yangtze river Saturday. Admiral Williams, commanding American forces in China, reported today to the navy department.

The American bluejackets were aboard the American steamer Chuan, having been transferred to that vessel from the gunboat Monocacy to act as a guard. They were forced to fire on the Chinese "who were determined upon revenge because of unauthorized cargo being removed from the fact that they were endangering the ship." Three Chinese were wounded, one probably fatally.

Japanese Carried Away.

Shanghai, April 4 (AP).—Five Japanese civilians and five sailors were carried off by the mob, says a Japanese wireless from Hankow. During the fighting in the Japanese concession yesterday and were still missing today.

It is believed one of the sailors was killed and thrown in the river.

Several Japanese houses in the "concession" were destroyed and the number of those living in Chinatown, which are surrounded by Chinese, is falling.

NEWSPAPERS PRINT LIES

SAYS METHODIST BISHOP

Jersey City, N. J., April 4 (AP).—In the course of an address at the annual session of the Newark conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Bishop Ernest G. Richardson of Atlanta, Ga., presiding, said: "Eighty per cent of all the things you read in the newspapers are lies, and in all my experience I have never known anything that any man said or did reported correctly."

This attack on the press was cheered for several minutes.

M. E. Conference Ordained Sunday

Bishop Henderson Ordained Nine Elders and Fifteen Deacons, Two of Them Women—Dr. Houston's Son Among Them.

Bishop Theodore S. Henderson, of the Cincinnati Methodist Area, on Sunday afternoon in St. Paul's Methodist Church, New York city, ordained nine men as elders and thirteen men and two women as deacons. These men and women were accepted by the 12th Annual New York Methodist Conference on Saturday, after passing the required examinations.

One of the women was Mrs. Mary M. Davis of Hyde Park, widow of the Rev. George T. Davis, who died in 1922. The other woman was Mrs. Mac Bookhout, wife of the Rev. Eugene A. Bookhout, pastor at Tivoli, who formerly had charge of the Port Ewen M. E. Church. As deacons they can baptize, perform weddings, preach and assist at the Lord's Supper. They may supply churches but cannot fill regular pulpits. They will be the only women deacons resident in the conference.

One of the young men ordained was Otto W. Lang, a nephew of Anton Lang, the "Christus" of the Oberammergau Passion Play. Otto Lang, who himself has had a part in the drama, came to this country several years ago and has been studying in Drew Theological Seminary. He has been preaching during the last year at Bellvale, N. Y.

Another young man ordained a deacon was Ralph M. Houston, a son of the Rev. Dr. Hough Houston, superintendent of the New York district. Young Houston has been serving as assistant at the Washington Square Methodist Church.

Those ordained as elders and the places they supplied last year were: The Rev. George L. Wilkey, Shrub Oak; the Rev. Frederick L. Baker, Steubenville, Harris and White Sulphur Springs; the Rev. Elmer H. Douglas, Falls Village, Conn.; the Rev. G. Vincent Runyon, Bangall and Washington Hollow; the Rev. Milton H. Ryan, Treadwell; the Rev. Frederick W. Stiles, Cornwallville; the Rev. James V. Taylor, North White Plains; Rightson D. Watson, Gramhamville; the Rev. Robert D. Wentworth, Hudson.

Those not already named who were ordained deacons were: Lee H. Ball, New York; Charles F. Dine, Dornmanville; Thomas P. Shaw, Ridgebury; Lloyd B. Gilmour, Tonawanda; Henry G. Lincoln, Rhinecliff and Hillsdale; Ralph Meadowcroft, Glasco and Centerville; William R. Peckham, Woodstock and Shady; Clyde H. Roddy, New York; Floyd G. Sheely, Cannonsville; Waldo E. Stephens, East Williston; Raymond Ward, Woodbridge and Mountaintop.

Bishop Henderson was assisted by the four district superintendents, who are the Rev. Dr. Hough Houston, New York; the Rev. Dr. George Benton Smith, Kingston; the Rev. James J. Henry, Newburgh, and the Rev. W. H. Lofthouse, Poughkeepsie.

Carroll Granted Stay to April 12

New York, April 4 (AP).—Earl Carroll, theatrical producer, who was to have started for Atlanta today to begin a penitentiary term of a year and a day for perjury in connection with his bathtub party, obtained a postponement until April 12.

Samuel Folk, of counsel for Carroll, appeared in federal court and asked for a postponement of four weeks. No reason for the request was given. The court declined to give such a long postponement but did grant a delay of eight days.

Carroll was not in court.

JAIL SENTENCE FOR

STEALING WINDOW COOK

Lester Berrier of the town of Woodstock was brought to the county jail by Sergeant James Cunningham and Trooper Baker Saturday afternoon where he will spend the next 60 days. Berrier was found guilty of petit larceny when arraigned before Justice Elyria. It is claimed he took a quantity of window cook which did not belong to him. Having been recently before the judge at which time he drew a suspended sentence, it was the opinion of Judge Elyria that Lester should be given a more severe lesson this time.

Big Summer Hotel Burned.

Wardens Lodge, a summer hotel in Sullivan county, was destroyed by fire early today. The hotel contained 125 rooms and was owned by Philip Kunkler, who was absent at the time. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss is estimated at $40,000 or more and is believed to be partly covered by insurance.

Discuss Deaths From Alcoholism

Means of Combating the Rising Death Rate From Alcoholism Will Be Discussed Before Session of National Health Conference.

Albany, N. Y., April 4 (AP).—Means of combatting the rising death rate from alcoholism will be discussed before the biennial session of the National Health Conference in Washington next month as a result of the efforts of Dr. Mathias Nicoll, Jr., state health commissioner.

The conference will be attended by the heads of the various state and territorial health boards.

Decision to devote the afternoon session of May 22 to the topic was reached after a nation-wide poll of state health commissioners showed 19 in favor of a discussion, 8 opposed it and one voting neutral.

Those opposing discussion of the subject, said Dr. Nicoll, generally held that the topic was "too dangerous and of a political nature," but he asserted his intention is to have the discussion solely concern the medical angle.

The increase in the alcoholic death rate in the last six years has been "very general" throughout the country, says Dr. Louis I. Spillman, statistician of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, in announcing the results of a nation-wide survey.

The greatest increase was in Maryland, he reports where the death rate multiplied seven times. Increases in other states include New York, Missouri and Michigan, more than five times.

Carlsen Fined $200 In City Court

Sverre Carlsen, the young man arrested last Friday on a charge of driving a Buick runaway on Washington avenue while intoxicated, was found guilty by Judge Shufeldt in police court Saturday afternoon and fined $200. Unable to pay the fine, he was remanded to the county jail. It is understood that his friends are attempting to raise the amount.

Carlsen was with three women in the runaway at the time of his arrest. Previous to that Miss Rita Ellis, one of the women, who said she was connected with the Sunset Park Sanitarium at Pomona, N. Y., had been driving the car and had run into the police shelter at the Rondout Creek Bridge, damaging it. When taken to police headquarters she had agreed to make good the damage and the party left. Shortly after leaving the city hall Carlsen took the wheel and was driving in place of Miss Ellis when the car was again stopped on Washington avenue.

Monitor Builder Is Dead at 97

Antigonish, N. S., April 4 (AP).—Death today had closed the career of Hugh MacDonald, 97-year-old native of Pictou county, one of that band of artisans who with sealed lips and anxious hopes welded and rivetted together the first armored ship of war, the Monitor of United States Civil War fame.

MacDonald's parents were among the first Scottish immigrants to Pictou county and when he became of age he went to the United States where he acquired skill as a workman in steamship and locomotive building in the Dearborn and Lawdon works at Dorchester, Mass.

The Civil War found MacDonald among those chosen by the northern forces to work on the construction of the Monitor, the secret of which was being closely guarded. In his later years he often told of his experiences and of his pride in the fact that when the Monitor met the Merrimack, the highest hopes of her builders were fulfilled.

Lay Unconscious On Cellar Floor Since Last Friday

Miss Elizabeth Hollingsworth, Abolition Street Dressmaker, Missing Since Friday, Found With Stroke in Cellar of Her Home—Condition Very Critical.

Miss Elizabeth Hollingsworth, widely known dressmaker, was found unconscious on the floor of the cellar at her home, No. 26 Abolition street, this morning by the tenant in the house, who immediately called J. S. Robinson, who resides further up the street.

The last she was seen around the house was Friday afternoon, and it is thought that when she went into the cellar for some article, that she was seized with the stroke and had been lying unconscious on the floor until discovered this morning, when a search was made for her.

Dr. Robinson, who attended her, said that the stroke had rendered her condition very critical.

The furnace in the cellar had not been run for some time and for that reason the tenant in the house had no occasion to go in the cellar. As the mail and newspapers accumulated on the front porch of the house and were not taken in by Miss Hollingsworth, he became alarmed at her continued absence and searched for her.

When found on the cellar floor she had a bad bruise over one eye where she had evidently struck when she fell.

Miss Hollingsworth is a woman advanced in years. She resided alone in one side of her home, and rented out the apartments on the other side. For years she had resided at her present address and was widely known as a dressmaker.

Subscribe $2,000 For New Church

Movement for New Edifice for Franklin Street A. M. E. Zion Church Organized Gets Good Impetus—Goal Is $15,000.

For nearly eighty years the Franklin Street A. M. E. Church has rendered a very distinct service to the colored population of Kingston. Under the able leadership of the Rev. E. O. Clark the present edifice has grown all too small for its congregation. The top of the building on account of its age was in sad need of repair when last winter occurred the fire which, while not showing much on the outside, destroyed the interior, making it unfit for use.

Faced with the problem of rebuilding or erecting an entirely new place of worship, the congregation decided to erect a new building more fitted to their needs.

Mr. Rice has prepared plans and will supervise the work at no cost to building committee. Members of the congregation will demolish the present building and do the necessary excavation for the new building. A number of brick manufacturers have agreed to donate brick for construction and in addition to this the members of the church have raised about $7,000 among their own number.

Saturday afternoon a meeting of those interested in the welfare of Kingston was held at the Governor Clinton Hotel to devise ways and means of assisting this worthy cause. Chairman and Judge Fowler presided. The following committee was chosen to plan and carry forward a campaign to raise $15,000 to make possible the erection of the new church building: Herbert Clark, chairman; A. D. Rose, Judge G. D. H. Hasbrouck, Admiral F. J. Higginson, the Rev. Dr. F. B. Seeley, William B. Martin, Hon. Walter P. Crane and Judge Joseph M. Fowler.

As evidence of their conviction that this was a needed project for this city, those present at the meeting on Saturday afternoon subscribed over $2,000. This will give the campaign the impetus to put it over in quick time.

The committee will meet again Monday afternoon at 4 p. m. at the Governor Clinton to perfect their plans for the campaign.

Work Started on North Front St.

The board of public works today started the work of tearing up the rails and ties of the abandoned Colonial Division of the trolley road on North Front street, and Tuesday morning the water board expects to place a gang of men at work in the street laying a 16-inch water main to connect the main on Washington avenue with the main on Clinton avenue.

After the water main is laid the board of public works will lay down the street on North Front street. While the street is being torn up, it will be made a one-way street, where work is in progress, and no parking will be allowed on the street while work is under way.

King Oilco Hour At Station WDBZ

Wednesday Evening at 8:00 the King Oilco Hour will be broadcast on the King Oilco Hour.

Wednesday evening at 8:30 WDBZ will begin broadcasting the first of a series of weekly entertainments furnished by the Kingston Oil Company, local distributors of Atlantic gasoline and lubricants. There will be instrumental music by the King Oilco Orchestra and vocal music by Miss Atlantic and Mr. Atlantic, the King Oilco Hour.

The general theme of the program will be hits from musical comedies. Next week the program will be made up of light opera hits, featuring the works of Victor Herbert.

Stamped post cards on which the fans may send in their criticisms and requests will be supplied at all filling stations handling Atlantic gas and oil, which may easily be located by observing the injunction to "Follow the arrow."

The King Oilco Hour will be a regular Wednesday evening feature at WDBZ each week for some time to come, beginning promptly at 8:30 each evening and the King Oilco Hour will be on the program each evening. Reception should be good at this hour and will interfere with no other station. The Sunday morning troubles of WDBZ will not be encountered as the King Oilco Hour will be broadcast from the studio, and the Sunday morning noises are due to something wrong, electrically speaking, in the church.

Hold Gallagher For Relatives

Saturday evening Officers Burger and Wood were called to the Salter Sanitarium on Wall street and placed John Gallagher under arrest on a charge of disorderly conduct.

At the request of Sheriff Rice the prisoner was kept under police guard all day Sunday and until this morning when he was brought to the city hall. While at the county jail he was examined by Dr. Larkin, the police surgeon.

This morning the police were notified that Gallagher's relatives, who live out of town, had been notified and that a niece was on her way to Kingston and desired that no disposition be made of the case until her arrival.

Judge Shufeldt was informed of that fact and remanded Gallagher to the county jail adjourning the hearing on the disorderly charge until Tuesday.

Joseph Schoonmaker, 17 years old, of this city, arrested on a charge of operating a car without a chauffeur's or operator's license was given a suspended sentence.

Mrs. Van Leuven Dies Suddenly

Worry Over Her Husband, Charles Van Leuven, Who Disappeared From Home on March 23, Caused Death—Dropped Dead on Porch of Home Sunday.

Worry over the mystery surrounding the disappearance of her husband, Charles Van Leuven, who disappeared Wednesday evening, March 23, from the family home at Sleightsburgh, was the cause of the sudden death of the wife about 10 o'clock Sunday night.

Mrs. Van Leuven had been around the house all day, apparently in good health, aside from the worry occasioned by her husband's disappearance, and that evening she threw herself on the couch to rest before retiring for the night.

Suddenly she arose from the couch, saying she must have some fresh air, and walking out onto the porch she suddenly collapsed. She was picked up and carried into the house and Dr. George W. Ross was called. He pronounced her death due to heart condition caused by worry.

Coroner W. Norman Conner was notified of Mrs. Van Leuven's sudden death by Undertaker E. A. Kelly, and gave Mr. Kelly permission to take charge of the body.

Mrs. Van Leuven is survived by her missing husband and three sons, Walter H. Van Leuven of Sleightsburgh, Reginald H. Van Leuven, the well known barber of Port Ewen, and Hasbrouck Van Leuven.

Mrs. Van Leuven before marriage was Miss Isadora Cassell, and for many years she and her family had resided in Port Ewen where they were held in high esteem. She was a member of the Daughters of Liberty and the Pythian Sisters of Port Ewen, and a member of Trinity M. E. Church of this city. Her husband was captain of the chain ferry Skilspot that plied between Rondout and Sleightsburgh.

Funeral services from the late residence Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment in Port Ewen Cemetery.

Troops May Guard Chicago Polls

Chicago, April 4 (AP).—While Adjutant General Carlos Black, of the Illinois national guard, Major General Roy D. Keen, commanding the Thirty-third Division of the guard, and Sheriff Charles E. Graydon conferred on the possibility of using guardsmen to maintain order at the polls in tomorrow's mayoralty election, a petition for an injunction to restrain the police from interfering with Republican precinct workers was filed.

About the same time, a special grand jury was sworn in, as a result of a petition by the Democratic Central Committee, and turned over to Charles C. Case, special prosecutor, to investigate election and registration frauds.

It had evidently been taken by joy riders for it had been run a considerable distance before being abandoned.

New York Man Arrested.

Anthony J. Meehan of New York city was arrested on Down street on Sunday by the police on a charge of driving a Ford coupe with plates registered for another make of car. He left his car at police headquarters as bail for his appearance in police court Tuesday.

At a meeting at the court house on Saturday, April 2, the Ulster County Farm Bureau Advisory Councilmen adopted the most extensive and far-reaching program of work ever to be undertaken in the county.

Analyzing the program at this meeting step by step, the councilmen found every important phase of agriculture carried on in the county had been given a part on the program in a carefully planned and direct manner.

Fruit growers found a well planned Spray Information Service outlined, also pruning, thinning, packing and cover crop demonstrations, a fruit growers' tour and winter meetings with speakers on important fruit topics.

Dairymen found the Dairy Improvement Association and club work were to be continued, barn meetings to discuss feeding and dairy management and barn ventilation will be held, assistance in eradicating bovine tuberculosis is offered. Winter meetings to discuss all kinds of dairy problems are to be held.

Poultrymen were interested in the poultry culling work, poultry record clubs, certification, egg show, exhibit at the county fair, field day and "nest egg" letters.

Vegetable gardeners find they are to receive assistance in controlling all insects and diseases. The legume campaign is to continue with nearly one hundred and fifty members receiving direct and personal assistance with legume crops.

Under the heading "Farm Management," farm inventory and account books are offered free of charge, a farm management tour will be held in July, farm management subjects will be discussed at four winter meetings.

Under the heading of "Farm Mechanics" personal farm visits will be made on land drainage, farm water supply systems, septic tanks, and dairy barn remodeling, three farm shop schools, two blacksmith schools, two tractor schools and one spray rig school will be held.

A woodchuck control campaign of county wide area will be conducted during the week of May 7-12. Cooperation with the County Beekeepers' Association will be extended. The vigilance service and weather forecast service will be continued.

The program adopted is as follows:

Program of work, 1927:

Old Age Pension In Canada

Applicant Must Have Attained the Age of 70 Years, Be a British Subject and Have Resided in Canada For 20 Years.

Ottawa, April 4 (AP).—A federal scheme of non-contributory old age pensions will soon be placed on the statute books in Canada. Subject to the willingness of the provinces to bear the costs, aged and indigent persons after reaching seventy years of age will receive assistance from the public treasury. The maximum pension under the law will be $20 a month.

British Columbia has indicated a willingness to establish old age payments and has passed legislation to bring the province within the scope of the plan. Now that the federal parliament has enacted the bill, the proposal will come before the different legislative assemblies of the other provinces.

The provinces will administer the law and the federal government will make quarterly payments of one-half the amount expended by the provinces for the preceding quarter. Before payment of pensions commences, the applicant must have attained the age of seventy years, be a British subject, have resided in Canada for twenty years, resided in the province in which the application is made for five years, have an income not in excess of $355 a year and prove that voluntary assignment of property has not been made for the purpose of qualifying. Indians who receive government "treaty money" are barred from participation. Pensioners who leave Canada will cease to receive the payments.

When the subject of old age pensions first came before the House of Commons in 1924, a special committee was appointed to study it. The definite recommendations of this committee were embodied in legislation submitted to parliament in 1926. After a lengthy debate the bill passed the House but was killed in the Senate. Another debate ensued when the bill was placed before Parliament again this year, but it passed the House of Commons without amendment and received the approval of the Senate. It now awaits only the Governor General's assent to become law.

Passage of the bill means that the subject of old age pensions will occupy a prominent place at an inter-provincial conference to be called at an early date. Representatives of the provinces will meet to discuss their relations to the Federal government and each other.

Confederate Vet Ranks Thinned

Tampa, Fla., April 4 (AP).—The thin grey line of the Confederacy once again will form here April 5, when a few hundred of the thousands who followed Lee, Jackson and Longstreet through the sodden fields of the War Between the States gather in annual reunion.

Once again the "Rebel" yell will resound, but the swelling, cutting volume of former years will be missing. The grand parade will wind through Tampa's streets, but the long line will be dwindled and the quick steps that once kept pace with drummer's beat will be followed by those of a slower cadence, while many of the veterans, too old and broken to march, will ride in automobiles provided for them.

For death has so thinned the ranks that only a scattering few from the states that composed the Confederacy are left to gather around the reunion, campfire and swap stories of the stirring battles. But the spirit of the survivors flames as intensely as ever.

The old Southern soldier never loses his eye for beauty. So every train that discharges veterans also brings pretty sponsors and matrons and maids of honor, who vie in showering attention upon their heroes in gray.

Election of a new commander-in-chief and selection of the next reunion city are the principal matters of business. General M. D. Vance, Little Rock, Ark., present commander-in-chief, is urging his city for the 1928 meeting.

Numerous sessions are held during the reunion, but they are consumed mostly with speeches and stories recounting the days when the veterans were fighting men. Dinners, dances and many other festivities provide gaiety.

PRESIDENT'S WIFE WOULD DRAFT WOMEN

Warsaw, Poland, April 4 (AP).—Mrs. Ignaz Moscicka, wife of the president of Poland, has come out squarely for the drafting of Polish women for one year's social work to correspond with the year required of Polish men to be spent in the army. "You see," said Mrs. Moscicka, "I believe in the emancipation of women, which means not only a right to obtain the same rights as the men, but also an acceptance of the same burdens borne by them. We Polish women have equal rights with men; we vote and have full freedom in the participation in the upbuilding of the country, and we pay taxes. But this is not sufficient.

"Men give at least one year of their life entirely to the country during their military service.

"I think that the legislators should make compulsory one year of social service for every girl finishing her education, leaving, of course, to her choice the special branch in which she is most interested.

"This year of service would develop in her a knowledge and interest in these matters, which might be a great comfort to her later in times when her private life may have its unhappy periods."

Mrs. Moscicka in 1892, six months after her marriage, left home, family and friends to follow her young husband into exile. Moscicka fled the menace of a Russian prison.

"They thought of settling in America, but on their way Professor Moscicka found employment in England and remained there for several years after which they moved to Switzerland. There on foreign soil, Mrs. Moscicka established a little oasis of Polish life. In her home gathered men prominent in the Poland of today: Marshal Pilsudski, President Wojciechowski and Narutowicz.

A few years before the war when the Austrian government offered more freedom to Polish science, Professor Moscicka settled in Lwow.

Mrs. Moscicka, having three sons under the colors during the war, gave her time and her heart to the relief work for Polish soldiers. Her duties of housewife and mother were greatly reduced and her daughter had married.

She was one of the first Polish women who became a member of a city council—being elected as "City Mother of Lwow." She concentrated on the subject of child relief. The work followed her when she established a bureau for children's relief matters.

Charcoal Formation

Charcoal is the carbonaceous substance left from wood after its other elements have been driven off by heating, without allowing it to undergo combustion. This is done by burning the wood with only a limited supply of air, so that the other elements are consumed while the carbon remains almost undisturbed.

Paris says:

IF YOU would be smart, wear this color. If you would be in fashion, bob your hair this way. If you would be well dressed, wear clothes simply designed as I make them.

PARIS today sets the correct fashion in women's clothes, for a waiting world, because with French women dressing is a studied art. Their chic is supreme.

THROUGH advertising, the genius of Paris is brought to the attention of thousands of American women. In Seattle, a charming lady wears the newest Paris hat. In Texas—a pretty girl chooses fashion's newest necklace of sparkling crystal. An Iowa newspaper advertises a copy of a Paris frock at a moderate price within ten weeks of its appearance in the French capital.

IF you would be well-dressed—choose your clothes thriftily and successfully—wear them with style and charm, watch what the charming ladies in advertisements wear, and read what is written in the magic name of Paris.

Read the advertisements and you will not only read what Paris says, but what the women of America do.

METROPOLIS REACHES

INTO SEVENHUNDRED THOUSAND

Chicago, April 4 (AP).—Chicago has let out another hole in its belt, by annexing Mount Greenwood, a south-west suburb of two square miles and 5,000 persons.

But it could absorb many more suburban communities and still cling to its claim of having outside its city limits a larger percentage of its metropolitan population than any other large city. The population of the city proper is about 3,000,000, but a million more live in the 240 suburbs which entered in a half moon about the metropolis.

Several of these suburban towns, notably Evanston, Chicago and Oak Park, are fast pushing toward the 100,000 mark, but they hold to their own governments and refuse to be annexed by the city in which thousands of their residents work.

Even beyond these three Chicago's metropolitan borders are spreading for one way journey well into northern Indiana without knowing where one municipality has ended or where another begins, and the city is growing northward rapidly toward the Wisconsin border. Railroads operate commuters' trains now for residents in Wisconsin north of Milwaukee who come daily to work in Chicago.

David Beisel Elected Bishop

New York, April 4 (AP).—The Rev. David Beisel has been elected Bishop of the Tamil Lutheran Synod in India, according to advice from the country received by the National Lutheran Council. Dr. Beisel has been in the India field since 1915, having heard the call to foreign work while still a student and having trained for his work at the Lutheran institution at Leipzig. During the war, when the German mission in India were having a very difficult time, Dr. Beisel from his headquarters in Madras took general charge of the situation, serving in a most unobtrusive manner.

Sweaters in New, Charming Models

Sets Offered in Fashionable Colors—Slip-Ons Lead
in Popularity.

On the Riviera there has lately arisen a vogue of sweaters for sports and afternoon wear, and they are created in an entirely new manner; they are as independent as blouses, observe a fashion correspondent in the New York Herald-Tribune, bought for their intrinsic beauty and matched later with an appropriate skirt and accessories. One New York shop in particular is meeting the demand for attractive sweaters with an inexhaustible supply of unique and charming models. This shop has launched an innovation in the form of sweater sets, composed, not of a sweater and skirt, but of a slip-on sweater made in lightweight cashmere exactly resembling a blouse, worn under a matching coat sweater which covers it like the jacket of a suit. These sets appear in all the modish colors, with stripes around the bottom of both slip-on and coat. Sometimes the coats are made like little vests, with pockets, and sometimes more like tuxedo sweaters. The slip-ons are made with square or V necks.

This same shop also displays many of its sweater models with the neck uncut, so that lady may decide for herself just how she wants it, and for a slight additional cost she may have it cut and bound as she wishes. Another advantage of this system, besides the element of personality, is harmony with the silhouette. The most popular neckline, however, as decreed abroad, has proved to be the square neck, with the V a near second, and certain types of very small round necks, generally bound in ribbed goods, coming third. The turtle-neck has disappeared, except on sports costumes of the very young girls.

Slip-ons slightly lead the coat sweaters in popularity. The latter appear chiefly in angora, brushed or plain, or camel's hair, while the slip-ons are made in a greater variety. Another reason for their popularity is that they this season are being made with little fancy collars and yokes to be worn in place of blouses, and are no longer exclusively the sport type. There are skirts to accompany these sweaters, generally in wool crepe, plaited all around in indestructible plaits. They may be had in black or in colors to identically match the sweaters.

From Scotland come a number of charming models in medium weight cashmere, necks cut V or square, and the fabric thin enough to preserve the slimmest of silhouettes. These are striped around the bottom with white. An English sweater is in silk and wool, appearing in orange, green and other shades, with the waistline modishly emphasized by a band of open work. In very thin cashmere appear a number of gay slip-ons with V necks, innumerable candy stripes in red, green or blue running horizontally across a white ground. Another in thin wool is made with a round neck and decorated with green box stripes. One original type is in dark gray cashmere made strictly on the lines of an overblouse, with a square neck and heavy band of ribbed wool around the waist like the waistbands of suede jackets.

A very dainty type appears in the pastel shades of silk and wool, and, while made on sports lines, it incorporates a touch of the feminine in the form of openwork.

Bennett to Talk on County Pageant

Professor Bruce Bennett, director of the Ulster County Historical Pageant, is to speak at a community meeting in the Reformed Church Hall at Kerhonkson on Wednesday evening, April 6, at 8 o'clock. His subject will be "Why have a Historical Pageant in Ulster County and if so, Let's." Dividing back into the dark ages in history when Ulster county was a wilderness, the American Indian an undiscovered people, coming on up through the times when the French Huguenots, the Dutch with pompous Peter Stuyvesant and later the English, worked and played on the banks of the Esopus, Professor Bennett will relate real life upon real life of history never read in modern history books. Professor Bennett has sold "Ulster county literally teems with historic facts, not all facts of skulking, scalping Indians and fighting settlers, but facts of agricultural and industrial progress of great moment and for which the American Indian and our own forefathers should be justly acclaimed."

All Kerhonkson and surrounding territory will be out to hear Professor Bennett tell how all these old Indian and Colonial days are to be returned for a brief two hours when the Ulster County Pageant passes by on June 25. Kerhonkson will furnish more than one hundred people, men women and children to have a part in the big affair.

The committee in charge of the meeting on Wednesday are Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Hunsberr, Rev. Davis and George Davis.

Longer Than Anything Else.
Myron Carver was brought to Ulster county jail Sunday night to be held for a hearing before Judge Alfred McKinty at Gardiner on a charge of destruction of property. Carver claims he rented a property and was trimming some apple trees when the charge against him was made.

KINGSTON, N. Y., APRIL 4, 1937.

A Boston politician of the name of Wadsworth is quoted as saying: "It is unfortunate that candidates have to run for office as wets or drys; it is going away with the two-party system." Still, there are likely to be two parties as long as there are determined wets and drys.

The war-time Charlie Chaplin film, "Shoulder Arms," as revived and exported, has caused excitement in Germany and demand for its withdrawal. Small wonder. The wonder is that it was ever shown there. Even the German radicals would hardly be delighted with the comical spectacle of Charlie going nonchalantly over the top and bringing in both the Kaiser and the Crown Prince with the manner of one performing a very trifling stunt.

The testimony against Circuit Judge Dearth in the impeachment trial before the State Senate at Indianapolis shows that when he tried a liquor-law violation case all the women called for jury service were members of the W. C. T. U., and that when he was asked if it was legal to summon jurors by telephone he replied that he had been advised by the attorney for the Indiana Anti-Saloon League that such a practice was "perfectly all right." The particular offense for which this unconventional judge is on trial was suppressing a newspaper which dared to question his rulings and casting its editor into jail.

MUSOLINI BANS BEARDS.

The mind of Mussolini seems to be so tirelessly active that when there are no serious matters for consideration he is compelled to occupy himself with trifles. His latest small preoccupation is beards and he jumps on them with both feet. He announces that this "Oriental adornment" is a sign of decadence, declares that the beard came in with the decline of Rome, and finds that the really great Roman Emperors were "completely shaven, as I am." He has not yet ordered all Italy to shave, but a writer in Le Temps of Paris suggests that those Italians who still wear beards ought to be quick in getting rid of them for fear that they may be shaved by the Government and shaved unpleasantly "close." Not to mention the even more terrifying possibility of Government-ordered shaving with dull razors.

Preserved sculptures show that Roman emperors employed the razor, but there are many indications that the ancients in general were bearded. Excavated relics on the site of ancient Nineveh and Babylon show not only that beards were worn long but that they were curled. Beards were common until very recent times, and since the dawn of history they seem to have been regarded both as manly and as conferring dignity. We may question whether they are quite sanitary, and recognize that they are perilous to soldiers in hand to hand fighting, but even a Mussolini may be reminded that he who attempts to control matters of personal taste and of fashion is headed for defeat.

ROMAN NOW STANDS ALONE.

The account of an interesting and significant court case comes from Buffalo. A woman was arrested there and convicted of selling liquor in her home, but her husband, arrested with her, was acquitted of the same charge. In appealing the case the woman's attorney invoked the old common law which provided that a wife could not be convicted of a misdemeanor when her husband, arrested with her for the same offense, was not similarly convicted. But Federal Judge Hanel upheld the contention of the United States District Attorney that "today the husband has assumed a position of relative obscurity in the home," and declared it to be absurd to pretend that husbands can and do coerce their wives into the commission of crime. "To hold it to be a fact," he said, "is a relic of a better, in the literature and publicity of women, which is set just now, and perhaps never will be restored."

In other words, women are now independent citizens under the law and must stand on their own feet. With power equal to that of men at the polls to direct and control the government of their country, with power even to coerce the majority of men, they can not also claim the old-time special privileges that were conceded them when they were not citizens in the complete sense. Whether all of them like it or not, they must face the fact that the nineteenth amendment takes away as well as gives. That amendment has inaugurated a new era, and one involving many changes in addition to the mere doubling of the voting population.

HEART MURMURS NOT NECESSARILY SERIOUS.

Notwithstanding the great increase in organic heart ailments the past few years, there is one point that has been learned that will mean much to thousands of individuals. In former days, during a life insurance or other examination, if a heart murmur was discovered the patient was informed that he had heart disease, and his whole future life was darkened for him from that moment.

He was advised to live a very careful life, to take no exercise unless it was a short walk, a definite diet was outlined, and no excitement of any kind was permitted. The insurance company invariably rejected him, and unless he was a man of unusual strength of will and courage, life became almost a burden to him.

Now as a matter of fact a strong normal heart heart can have murmurs, or even apparent skipping of the regular heart beats. The knowledge that murmurs, and occasional skipping of beats may mean nothing was well demonstrated during the war. That is one of the few good things the war taught us.

However, turning to the other side, it is well to remember that the heart may be far from strong, and yet be regular and free from murmurs. You heart, your very life itself, depends upon the power of its muscular walls.

The heart in fact is composed of muscle only, controlled by the nerves. How can you detect heart weakness?

As pointed out by Drs. Mackenzie, Cowan, and others, the first sign of a failing heart is getting out of breath very easily. For instance, walking at your usual rate, which heretofore did not increase your breathing very much, now causes an actual breathlessness, and you find it necessary to walk more slowly.

It is at this time that proper attention to rest and diet, with little or no exercise for some weeks, brings back the "reserve" in the heart muscle.

Don't wait until your ankles begin to swell before seeing your family doctor.

So if you find yourself getting out of breath easily, are not overweight, and have no obstruction in your nose or throat, you would be wise to let your family doctor examine your heart.

After a certain period of rest, he will advise graded exercises, because after all exercise is the only method of strengthening the heart muscles.

ZENIA COUNTRY CLUB HAS MANY ACTIVITIES.

Zenia, April 4.—The Zenia Country Club held its regular monthly business meeting Friday evening, April 1, with a large attendance. Following the meeting the orchestra played both for old-fashioned square dances and new round dances. Refreshments were later served by the committee.

April 4, 1917.—Daniel Miller, a former resident of Ellenville, badly injured by an internal machine sent him by express at his boarding house in Schenectady.

POULTRY

FEEDING TRIALS FOR THE CHICKS

Feeding trials during 1926 on the experiment station poultry farm at Rutgers university have shown that by means of a new ration it is possible to make White Leghorns average 1½ pounds in weight when eight weeks old and show steady gains to a maturing weight of four pounds. The new ration used was designed to meet all nutritive requirements of birds raised in confinement for the prevention of coccidiosis, black head, round worms and tapeworms, and consisted of the following ingredients: Twenty pounds of wheat bran, 20 of Red Dog flour, 20 of yellow corn meal (whole ground corn), 20 of ground rolled oats, 10 of meat scrap (50%), 5 of dried milk, 2 of oyster shell meal, 1 of salt and 1 quart of cod liver oil. The scratch ration consisted of 2 parts of fine cracked corn and 1 part of fine cracked wheat.

For the poultrymen who wish to use this ration the poultry department gives the following directions: For First Three Days—Give milk to drink, either sour skim milk or a commercial condensed skim milk or buttermilk. These two commercial products must be diluted one part in seven parts of water. It is preferable to continue feeding the milk indefinitely, thus promoting best possible growth.

Three Days to One Week—Feed mash in pans twice daily, all the chicks will eat in 20 minutes; scratch feed 3 times daily, all they will eat in 20 minutes.

One Week to Twenty Weeks—Furnish plenty of mash hopper space, add fresh mash daily. Give scratch feed three times daily. Green feed must be tender and succulent; feed shall amounts at start, then increase to what the chicks will eat in 15 minutes. Infertile eggs from the incubator, boiled, make a splendid delicacy for the chicks.

When birds are in confinement, allow 300 chicks to a brooder pen, 10 by 12 feet in size.

When the birds are given free range allow 350 to 400 chicks to the flock. Remove all males four to five weeks of age. Furnish perching space early to prevent crowding.

Fresh Air and Light Are Best for Growing Chicks

Plenty of fresh air and light are necessary to get the best results with growing chicks. In addition to ventilators in the back of the house, both at the plate and at the floor line, the windows should be adjustable. When the weather permits, the lower sash may be removed in order to admit more direct sunlight. In a 10 by 12 brooder house it is desirable to have at least four 4-light sashes made of 12 by 14 panes.

Brooder-house temperatures should be kept as uniform as possible and to this end the walls and floors must be tight. Drop siding for walls should be put on dry. If it is put on wet it may dry out, crack and open up. Double wall construction has not always proved satisfactory because it is hard to keep such houses free of mites.

Feed Costs of Growing Pekin Ducks for Market

The feed cost of growing Pekin ducks to ten weeks of age, when they weigh from five to six pounds, is estimated at from 13 to 15 cents a pound. Green ducks are marketed from April to November, and bring from 20 to 45 cents a pound when sold to commission men at wholesale. The highest prices are paid for ducks marketed early in the spring, decreasing as the season advances and the supply becomes more abundant. The demand for green ducks has been built up in large cities in the East and on the Pacific coast, and there is very little demand for such ducks in small cities and towns. Many farmers market their ducks in the fall as spring ducks at a lower price per bird than is received for green ducks in the spring.

Turkey Eggs in Incubator

Turkey eggs are successfully hatched in any incubator which will do effective hatching of chicken eggs. The incubator is being used more and more for this purpose each year and some of the largest turkey producers hatch exclusively with the incubator and raise the turkeys with artificial brooders. The young turkeys must be kept clean and dry, especially during the first four weeks. Turkeys do not require quite as much heat as chickens.

Feather-Eating Hens

Feather eating is a habit that seems to occur most often when the hens are overworked, idle, and hungry for something which seems to be lacking in the ration. The best remedy is to turn the hens on range where they will separate and become interested in scratching for a living. Feed a balanced dry mash containing the most scrap and this may reduce the feather pulling. Hang a piece of raw beef in the house for the hens to peck at.

Not Always Heard

"Omniscience is a very small virtue," quoted the good doctor. "Not only that, but sometimes it seems to have an impediment in its speech," suggested the supercilious lecturer.

Soviet Industrial Display Planned

Eastern States Exposition at Springfield, Mass., Will Show Russian Exhibit Now Being Assembled at Moscow.

Springfield, Mass., April 4.—Eastern States Exposition officials announce that an industrial display will be presented at the forthcoming fall show, September 16-24, by the Union of Soviet Republics. The exhibit will be brought here by the Amtorg Trading Corporation of New York, J. G. Ohlso, treasurer, American representatives of the Russian Soviet government.

This Russian exhibit is now being assembled in Moscow preparatory to its shipment to the United States and will be included in the displays to be shown in the Industrial Arts Building here. This is the first time that a foreign government will be represented by a display at the Exposition. Increasing scope of the Exposition's industrial exhibits is indicated also by the fact that New York will be represented for the first time this year by a state exhibit. This is to be prepared by the Department of Labor, Bureau of Industrial Safety, and will be devoted practically in its entirety to industrial safety. New York has been a pioneer in this work as a state bureau and the exhibit will comprise a series of working models showing what is being accomplished in this regard in the Empire State.

Other Industrial Exhibits. The several New England states will be represented as heretofore by comprehensive displays. In the case of New Hampshire, the most pretentious exhibit ever prepared by the Granite State will be shown at the Exposition this fall. In addition to its usual displays relating to agriculture, education, fish and game, highways and recreation, there will be a large industrial exhibit which will be developed as part of the program to present New Hampshire industries.

In this the various state departments have been joined by the New Hampshire Publicity Bureau and this in turn has the active cooperation of the New Hampshire Manufacturers' Association. Vermont and Connecticut will have extensive exhibits and Maine will have a combined industrial and state exhibit in the State of Maine building, while Massachusetts through its department of agriculture will have another in its series of project displays in the Massachusetts State building selecting one of the Bay State's major activities for development.

Industrial Arts. Widespread interest is being shown in the industrial arts department of the Springfield Exposition by other communities and localities. Davenport, Iowa, through its Industrial Commission will return for the second consecutive year with an attractive display. The Chamber of Commerce of St. Petersburg, Fla., is to stage another large exhibit. The Dominion of Canada through the Department of Immigration will be represented for the 10th consecutive year and negotiations are under way with the state of Florida for a state exhibit which will feature both agriculture and industry as well as the recreational side of Floridian life.

In the general industrial arts show it is of interest to note that reservations for exhibit space are approximately 20 per cent greater this year than in 1926 for the corresponding date, indicating good business conditions not only in New England but in the Central and Middle Western States. The lists this year include many new exhibitors at Springfield who have never shown previously and an unusual number of early applications for space by exhibitors of former years.

ARMY KITCHENETTE CARRIED ON HORSEBACK

New York, April 4.—Kitchenettes carried on horseback are the latest wrinkle adopted for serving piping hot Army beans and bacon to Uncle Sam's cavaliers.

The War Department today placed orders for 46 such cooking outfits for cavalrymen in Western posts. Later all Cavalry organizations in the Army will be so equipped, it was announced.

weighing two hundred pounds, the new "Kitchenette" can be folded up and packed on the back of a horse within thirty seconds. Each is designed to afford ample cooking facilities for a full war-strength troop of cavalry.

SAUGERTIES AND GAME FAKES

Albany, April 4.—For the last two or three years questions relating to amusements have been included in the geography examinations prepared by the State Regents for students in junior high school classes. So many inquiries have been received by the Conservation Department from pupils and teachers this year for the correct answer to the question: "Name one State Fish Hatchery and give its location," that Lawrence Lodge, chief game protector for the Conservation Department, has prepared the following list of state fish hatcheries, which are administered by the department, also the field stations, which are auxiliary hatcheries, and the game bird farms from which are distributed each year more than one hundred thousand pheasant eggs and ten thousand young pheasant chicks for liberation in the covers of the state:

FAIRY TALEMary Graham Bonner
AUTHOR OF "LITTLE RABBIT" AND "THE FOX"

RABBIT AND FOX

"I must tell you," began Daddy "about the way Old Mr. Rabbit tricks Old Mr. Fox."

"One day when Old Mr. Rabbit was only a little rabbit Old Mr. Fox played him a most unkind trick."

"Old Mr. Rabbit never forgot it and vowed that one day he would revenge himself."

"You see, it was this way: 'Old Mr. Fox considered the rabbit rather a stupid little creature, so he thought it would be fun to play a joke on him."

"He, therefore, told the little rabbit that he could find a most beautiful clover field where he could gather up all the delicious clover he desired."

"However," said Old Mr. Fox, "you will find it a long distance off and you may get very tired walking there but you will be well rewarded when you do reach the field," and he gave the rabbit full directions how to go there."

"Of course, rabbits love clover better than anything in the world, so of the little rabbit started."

"He walked on and on through the woods, ever and ever so far. He wondered if he would have the strength to get there, for he kept feeling more exhausted at every few steps, and he felt he could never reach the clover field."

"He remembered, though, that the fox told him it was a very long distance."

"Thank Heaven," When traveling is done in the air billboards will be on the roofs.

Woman (at the door)—No, we wouldn't think of buying anything on the installment plan at this time. We're paying for our baby yet.

A Prayer.

To grow a little wiser day by day.

To school my mind and body to obey.

To keep my inner life both clean and strong.

To free my lips from guile, my hands from wrong.

To shut the door on hate, and scorn, and pride.

To open, then, to love the windows wide.

To meet with cheerful heart what comes to me.

To turn life's discords into harmony.

To share some weary worker's heavy load.

To point some straying comrade to the road.

To know that what I have is not my own.

To feel that I am never quite alone.

This would I pray from day to day.

For then I know

My life will flow

In peace, until it be

God's will I go.

It's better to fall down on a job than lay down on it!

First Farmer—"The best way to start a balky mule is to twist his tail."

"You are charged with selling adulterated milk," said the judge.

"So I understand, your honor," said the milkman. "I plead not guilty."

"But the testimony shows that your milk is 25 per cent water," said the judge.

"Then it must be high grade milk," returned the milkman. "If your honor will look up the word milk in your dictionary you will find it consists of from 80 to 90 per cent water. I should have said it for cream."

The Value of Father John's Medicine as a body builder

Is in two outstanding features which distinguish this old-fashioned medicine.

FIRST—THE QUALITY OF THE COD LIVER OIL USED, ALONG WITH OTHER VALUABLE INGRED-IENTS, in its preparation.

Harvey A. Seal, Ph.D., of Seal, Pratt & Rensby, 128 Water St., New York, recognized analytical chemists, made an analysis of Father John's Medicine and stated: "We have never examined finer Cod Liver Oil than that used in Father John's Medicine."

SECOND—THE TINY PARTICLES INTO WHICH THE COD LIVER OIL IS DIVIDED by the specially designed apparatus in our modern laboratories.

Concerning this degree of fineness, Dr. Seal reports: "The Cod Liver Oil is broken up more completely than in any other medicine we have ever examined of this type, many of the oil particles found in Father John's Medicine being only one-tenth the size of the particles of butter-fat found in cream."

The Cod Liver Oil in Father John's Medicine is so excellent in quality and is so finely divided that its full food value is easily absorbed by even weakened digestive systems.

This is why people, especially the aged and weak, and pale, thin, underweight, undernourished children, gain health and strength from Father John's Medicine, which contains no alcohol or harmful drug. Over seventy years in use.

Catholic Women to Meet

The regular quarterly meeting of the Diocese of Kingston, National Council of Catholic Women, will be held on Tuesday afternoon, April 5, at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. William D. Cunningham, Ellenville. Automobiles to convey the members will leave the Knights of Columbus Home, Broadway, and Andrew street, at 1:30 p.m. A large attendance is anticipated.

Big Trout Catch Displayed

There has been on display today on two large pictures in a show window of the L. S. Winke & Company on Wall street, twenty-six trout caught Saturday in Woodland valley stream by Clyde E. Wondery, B. S. Winke, Harry R. LeFevre, Walter Robinson and A. D. Reyley. The exhibit completes a well-arranged window showing of fishing appliances which the firm handles.

Jolly Ten Picnic Party

The Jolly Ten will hold a picnic party at the home of Mrs. Meadows, 35 Montrose avenue, on Tuesday afternoon, April 5, at 2 o'clock. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments will be served. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Vacation: Something that makes folks dislike work all the more.

3 Incorporations In Ulster County

Albany, April 4.—During the first quarter of this year, a total of 7,114 stock companies have incorporated in New York state, according to a statement made today by Robert Moses, secretary of state. These figures are slightly under the corresponding period last year, when 8,171 companies incorporated. Last month proved a record breaker thus far this year, with a total of 2,565 companies, a gain of 193 over the same month last year.

Much activity in the real estate and construction field is indicated in that 551 such companies were incorporated last month, a great many of these being from New York city and vicinity. Of the month's total of 2,565 companies, there were 384 located outside of the metropolis, with Westchester claiming 76 of these.

Cafeterias continue to incorporate in growing numbers, while one company was incorporated last month to bore for radium. Another company seeks to do away with baldness, while another pins its business future on suspenders and garters.

In Ulster county three companies incorporated last month, two having a combined capitalization of $15,000, while the other company did not specify its capitalization.

WILKIE KINGERS

AT COMFORTER HALL

On Tuesday evening, April 5, the Jubilee Singers of St. Mark's A. M. E. Church will give an entertainment in the Church of the Comforter Hall, beginning at 8 o'clock. The program will consist of readings from Paul Laurence Dunbar's poems, songs, quartets and negro spirituals. Admission will be free but a free will silver offering will be taken. The public is invited to attend and enjoy the program.

500 K. of C. at Holy Communion

The Father Neumann Station in Kingston, at St. Peter's Church—Roman Catholic—served at Holy Communion. Where Masses were celebrated.

Around five hundred members of Kingston Council, Knights of Columbus, received Holy Communion in a body at the 8 o'clock Mass at St. Peter's Church Sunday morning. The Rev. John P. Neumann, pastor of St. Peter's, celebrated the Mass. The Rev. Joseph Huband assisted at the reception of Communion. The Knights of Columbus choir rendered the musical program, with Professor John Schwalbach, presiding at the organ. John P. Erbe and Dr. Robert E. Whalen rendered several duets.

Father Neumann welcomed the Knights to St. Peter's and lauded the local council on its large outpouring to comply with the precepts of the church. In a very forcible manner he outlined the great characteristics of St. Peter, his fidelity, firmness and toward love to the Savior, which won for him the first place among the Apostles and head of the flock. "You are Peter and upon this rock I will build my church and the gates of Heaven shall not prevail against it," the life of St. John was also presented as an example for the members to carry out in this work-a-day-world. The reception of the body and blood of our Savior, Father Neumann said, is a lasting effect, which should be displayed in the home, workshop and social engagements.

In contrast to the characteristics of Peter and John, the treachery of Judas Iscariot was pointed out. Judas, who betrayed his Divine Master for the paltry thirty pieces of silver, should be an example to each one, for even the familiar friendship of Jesus may be of no avail to one who is unfaithful. Repentance was also urged for although the Lord is basely betrayed daily, he is not hard and stern but a Lord of loving kindness and compassion. Great stress was also laid upon the responsibilities of every member as a Catholic and as a true American citizen.

From the expressions emanating from the assemblage, Father Neumann's sermon will long be remembered and will produce results.

Delicious Breakfast

The breakfast was served at the Statway Hotel, following the church services and many were the high compliments paid for the delicious repast and splendid service. About two hundred attended the breakfast. Grand Knight Florian P. Winger, presided as toastmaster and introduced as the first speaker, Patrick T. Murphy, district deputy of the 35th New York district. District Deputy Murphy exhorted the members to take more interest in the activities of their council by attending meetings more regularly, being active on committees and cooperating with their officers.

A Scholarly Address

John M. Cashin, the next speaker of the occasion, gave a very interesting and scholarly talk on the history of Kingston Council, paying high tribute to the pioneers of the local order, who were the foundation of the flourishing council that exists today. He also appealed to the younger members of the order to take this same interest, which the "old guard" displayed by putting their backs to backs and shoulders to shoulders, with the good of the council uppermost in their minds. After telling a number of humorous incidents in the lives of the old members of the council, for which he would not take full responsibility for their accuracy or authenticity, the speaker followed in a more serious trend.

Referring to the cardinal principles of the Knights of Columbus—charity, unity, fraternity and patriotism—Mr. Cashin impressed upon the members the necessity of charity toward their neighbors, united effort in accomplishing the worth while things, more interest in the events of the council and the same patriotic spirit that has always been displayed and that has won such great fame for the Knights of Columbus throughout the world.

Quite Summary Passed Impassingly

The main speaker of the occasion, Joseph M. Collins, New York State Secretary, delivered a message to members of the local council, that was listened to with marked attention. Mr. Collins had a very pleasing personality and his many points delivered in an interesting manner, both delighted as well as instructed the gathering.

The speaker did not enter into a lengthy discourse of the work being carried on or what has been accomplished by the Knights of Columbus but pointed out the necessity for an increased interest and hard work. He also urged the younger members of the order to take up the burden that the veterans of the Knights of Columbus have been shouldering. Greater interest in the boy movement, Boyology today, the speaker explained was one of the highest tasks facing the Knights of Columbus. Many councils in larger cities have made great strides in the boy movement and the smaller councils are beginning to display interest.

The Crime Wave

If there is an increase in the crime wave in this country today, the speaker said the lack of proper parental supervision in the home was the cause. "Disagreeing to some extent that there is a great increase in crime—due to the increased population and the nature of the offenses brought before the attention of the authorities—the offenders are composed in the majority of the younger generation, ranging in age from 16 to 21 years. The home is the place where the tendency toward crime can be wiped out.

The parental control that existed some years ago was lacking today, due to the carelessness of the parents. Christian instruction in the home today is absolutely necessary and this responsibility should be borne by the parents. The school teacher or the Sunday school instructor in the short time devoted to this work cannot instill into the hearts of the young children all that is required to combat the temptations of today. The speaker gave a number of incidents, dealing with young people, which illustrated very clearly where the parent was at fault. At the conclusion of his talk, the lusty applause reflected to some degree the appreciation of the clever address.

The Major Degree

Sunday afternoon, at the Knights of Columbus Home, Broadway, and Andrew street, the third degree was conferred upon a very large class of candidates. The degree was under the supervision of Patrick T. Murphy, district deputy of the 35th New York district, assisted by District Deputy James J. Murphy and staff. The degree was one of the most successful in the history of the local council and was attended by a record crowd.

The event attracted members from councils throughout the Hudson valley. There was also a number of candidates from out of town who received the third.

The event was in general character of William J. Dwyer, lecturer, assisted by E. Frank Flanagan, Charles Gassen and Edward Moran.

BANNON COMPANY BUSY AT KINGSTON OPERA HOUSE

The L. F. Bannon Plumbing, Heating and Contracting Company of 402 Broadway, is busy installing the plumbing, heating and steel toilet room partitions in the old opera house building, corner of Fair and John streets, the second floor of which is being turned into twenty-two modern offices by the owners, Messrs. Levine, Feldman and Robinson. The plans were drawn by Architect A. B. Schwanap, and call for rest rooms for both the ladies and gentlemen and with hot and cold running water in each of the twenty-two offices.

The third floor will be finished off into a large meeting room for use of lodges and other organizations. The first floor has already been turned into ten modern stores, all of which are occupied. The Bannon Company also installed the plumbing and heating in these stores. When completed this building will make a decided improvement to the uptown business section.

S. P. C. A. Annual Meeting

Patriotic Meeting At Woodstock

On Wednesday evening, April 6, at eight o'clock there will be a public meeting in the Reformed Church at Woodstock for the residents of that part of Ulster county. This is the tenth anniversary of the declaration of war by the United States, and it is thought proper to observe the date in a fitting manner. Augustus H. Van Buren of Kingston will be present to make an address of an appropriate character, and there will be other interesting features on the program for the evening. A personal letter has been sent to all who saw service in the Army and Navy of the United States and contingent forces during the war, urging them to be present and those who attend will be the guests of honor for the occasion.

This meeting is under the auspices of the Memorial Day Celebration Committee of Woodstock, of which Frank B. Happy is president and George Neher is secretary. One great purpose is to enter hearty support of the annual Memorial Day celebration. This matter will be taken up and dealt with during the evening, and it is particularly urged that anyone with suggestions to present as to the celebration, this year, make his ideas known. It is hoped that every citizen of Woodstock and the surrounding country will make a special effort to be at this meeting not only to hear the address by Mr. Van Buren but also to lend moral support to the effort that is to be put forth to improve the annual Memorial Day celebration.

A. W. MOLLOTT
302 WALL STREET.

New York, April 4 (AP).—The slugging attack of three Metropolitan entries in the annual major league flag hunts was impressed upon all rivals today as the Yankees, Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers wandered homeward from Florida training pastures.

The Giants were most impressive with their war clubs smashing out 26 hits for 23 runs against the Memphis Chickasaws in Memphis yesterday. The Chicks scored twice. Andy Reese, former Memphis youth, now in the Giant outfield, collected six hits in seven times at bat and scored four runs.

Brooklyn hit hard in defeating Cleveland 8 to 7 at New Orleans although the Indians likewise helped themselves to a flock of hits from the Robins star hurlers Vance, McWenney and Barnes. An Indian uprising in the ninth came within a run of tying the score.

When statisticians with the Yankee club told Babe Ruth he was hitting under .300 for the coconut campaign the big Bam cracked out two doubles in four appearances at the plate and accounted for three tallies in the Yanks' 4-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals at Noni-komet. Alz Combs shared three of the Yankees' 12 hits.

Peoria. On April 4 (P) —The crowns of the leaders have begun to topple in the American Bowling Congress tournament. New names appeared today at the top of the single and team columns.

First place in the team event was taken last night by the Writter Razz Quintet of St. Louis. The Missouri aggregation rolled games of 1,010, 1,025 and 1,037 for a total of 3,062 to displace the Koors of Dayton. Ohio, who had held the lead for more than two weeks.

The Baker, Macie five of Columbus, Ohio, went into sixth place with 2,025 and the Erie-Auto Supply five of Erie, Pa. took sixth position with 2,277.

William Eggers of Cassico jumped into the singles' lead by rolling games of 222, 247 and 235 for a total of 705 points. Eggers ran 2610 a spin; it is coming there and how. Other mark in the second frame of his last game when he scored 125 and 240.

It was discovered by the great five of 1933 and returned. For partially sentenced during the storm, not of 1933. In this instance prison was paid over, and on the side was rolled the future: Criminal Court.

pest control in the division of lands and forests of the Conservation Department, effective April 1, according to an announcement made by Conservation Commissioner Alexander Macdonald.

Mr. McIntyre has had experience in forest pest control, having been for seventeen years with the federal government in a supervisory capacity in connection with the fight against the gipsy moth in New England having had charge of the work for the last ten years of his stay there. In 1923 he came to New York to take charge of the gipsy moth control work inaugurated in that year by the Conservation Commission. His conduct of that work has been most successful through the establishment of the so-called gipsy moth barrier zone extending from Long Island Sound to Canada, and the accompanying suppression work which has resulted in preventing the westward spread of this destructive insect for the first time since its discovery in New England thirty years ago.

In organizing the bureau of forest pest control, Commissioner Macdonald announces that he is combining the control work in gipsy moth and white pine blister rust with the expectation of giving efficiency and economy in carrying on the work in both branches.

 hoped that a large congregation will greet the evangelist on the opening night. Service every evening at 7:45, except Saturday.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Daylight reception that was a delight and night reception that was more or less aggravating characterized Saturday and Sunday. Statistics and all manner of busting and bubbling sounds, with the efforts of a superlative blooper added, characterized reception. Saturday night, although Chicago, Davenport, Detroit and other distant stations were heard.

Sunday morning the Children's Hour and everything that followed it up to sunset, with the exception of WDBZ, was perfect, except for blooping. WDBZ was in a class by itself, altogether demoralized and full of confusion. Opening with a roar and a crash, it ran through all the profanity-provoking things that radio can. Apparently many and varied efforts were made to correct the trouble, but in vain. The best thing it did was the organ postlude.
 Dr. Seely apparently had an exceptionally good sermon, judging from the fragments heard, but most of the time he sounded like a barking dog afflicted with laryngitis and trying to bark while chewing on a bone. Other stations, WGY, WJZ, WBBR, WODA, WMCA, WRNY, WQAO, WBZ and WIP, were clear and normal during this time. The WDBZ trouble is local, in the church itself, and does not affect the station when broadcasting from other places.

Sunday evening reception was not so bad, although the new superlative blooper did his best to spoil things. The Portchester Elks at WJZ and programs from WLS, WYAM, KDKA, WCB and others were good. WEAJ fell down again on the Atwater Kent program and one had to go to WGY, WTAM or WSAI to hear it. WKRC on 422 meters had a good late program and the Cuckoo station missing for several months, came back with a bang on about 390 meters. When last heard previously this station, 6KW at Tuluca, Cuba, was on 340 meters, and the fact that it jumped to 390, coming on the dial position of WGY, is probably why it has not been heard lately and maybe is why WGY sometimes grows.

Do not forget to tune in on WDBZ 233 meters. Wednesday evening at 6:30 for the Kink Office program and hear Miss Atlantic and Mr. Atlantic sing.

The appearance of a new weekly magazine called "Radio Program Weekly," the purpose of which is to effect a closer connection between broadcast stations and the listening public, is announced by Hugo Gerns-back, well-known publisher, who will edit it. The magazine, said to be the first non-technical radio publication, will concern itself only with broadcast activities, programs, intimate gossip about artists, and radio fiction, and will circulate only in the New York metropolitan district.

With the national referendum to determine the ten most popular broadcast stations entering upon its fourth week, the current tabulation of the votes cast shows Stations WJZ of New York, still in preferred position. KDKA of Pittsburgh, remains in second place. WLS of Chicago, in third; and WEAJ of New York, in fourth. Station WJZ has 1080 votes, KDKA, 945 votes; WLS, 503 votes; and WEAJ, 733 votes. The next seven stations and their ballot credits are: WGY, Schenectady, 641; WBBM, Chicago, 368; WBZ, Springfield, 257; WPG, Atlantic City, 254; WLW, Cincinnati, 230; and WOC, Davenport, Iowa, 197.

2,847,708 Voters Enroll in State

Albany, April 4.—There is just one lone Socialist in all Hamilton county, at least to the extent of enrolling. Figures announced today by Robert Moses, secretary of state, covering the enrollment of last fall, reveal but one enrolled Socialist in Hamilton county and but six in Putnam and the same number in Lewis county. All told, the Socialist enrollment last fall amounted to 19, 112 as against 19,093, the previous year, and 61,981 in the fall of 1924.
 Socialists secured enrollment gains last fall in 21 counties over the previous year.

Should they desire, no less than 2,847,708 men and women in New York state can vote in next fall's primaries, having enrolled. This is a gain of 131,947 over the totals of the preceding year. Democrats gained in enrollment last fall in 32 counties and the Republicans in 34 counties, while both parties show enrollment gains in 24 of the 62 counties.

Electric Light Bulbs Cheaper.
 Users of electricity in the Central Hudson cities and towns will welcome the news that effective at once there will be a 5 1/2 per cent reduction in the price of electric light bulbs on sizes generally used for residential purposes. As a result of ten price reductions, the prices of Mazda lamps are 46.5 per cent lower than the 1921 level. This is in contrast with an 11 1/2 per cent increase in the average cost of commodities since that year. This latest price reduction alone represents a saving to the public of approximately $4,- 000,000 annually.

This Is Music Week in Kingston

This is music week in Kingston
 On Wednesday evening the complimentary organ recital to be given by Mrs. Hewitt Boice, presenting Clarence Dickinson, the noted organist of the Fifth Avenue Brick Presbyterian Church, New York city, and Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. Doty, soloists of the First Reformed Church, accompanied by W. Whiting Frederick, will occur at the First Reformed Dutch Church.

On Thursday evening the Men-delsohn Club will give another of their complimentary concerts at the auditorium of the Kingston High School.

On Saturday evening, under the auspices of the Prisma Society of the Kingston High School, the Tufts College Glee Clubs will give a concert in the auditorium of the school, the concert to be followed by dancing at the gymnasium.

Test Your Brain
 The "ask me another" fad is the first definite successor of the crossword puzzle. Conversations overheard in public conveyances indicate that many of the "ask me's" are as intriguing as the puzzles over which enthusiasts worried far into the night.
 "It's always a challenge to try one more, and if you want to find out just how little you know, have some one start 'asking,'" a fan said.

WARNER BROS. White Flannels

WARNER BROS.
PRODUCTION

Louise Dresser—Jason Robards

VIRGINIA BROWNE FAIRE

The football game which is one of the high-lights in "White Flannels" the Warner Bros. production, featuring Louise Dresser and Jason Robards, was coached by Aubrey Devine, selected by many as All-American quarterback in 1921.

Robards is cast as the heroic coal-miner who becomes the football idol of the college, and leads the team to victory in one of the hardest battles ever filmed for a screen production. It arouses audiences to a high pitch of enthusiasm.

Featured with Dresser and Robards are Virginia Browne Faire, Richmond Warner, George Nichols and Brooks Benedict. Lloyd Bacon has scored one of his biggest successes in his direction of the play. A big coal mine disaster and a college football game are the outstanding spectacular features.
